Introduction

The Progressive Behavior Analyst Autism Council® (“Council”) Certified Progressive Behavior Analyst-Autism Professional® (CPBA-AP®) certification program is designed to recognize individuals who have the experience, knowledge, and skills necessary to provide competent training, supervision, and oversight to professionals who implement behavioral intervention with individuals diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD).

CPBA-AP® is a certification for experts overseeing the implementation of a progressive approach to Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) based procedures. Individuals eligible for this certification have a significant amount of experience in ABA with a concentration in autism and an advanced degree in ABA-related disciplines. Candidates may include individuals who are no longer providing direct service to individuals but have extensive past experience and are in a supervisory or administrative role teaching and/or directing students, staff, and/or employees.

The certification is designed to ensure that all certification holders have demonstrated their competence through fair and valid measures. The certification is developed by researchers, academicians, and practitioners.

In order to receive and maintain the CPBA-AP designation, candidates must:

- Complete the prerequisite education and experience review and audit
- Pass a multiple-choice examination including both text- and video-based scenario assessment questions
- Achieve a passing score on an evaluation of a content presentation
- Maintain continuing competence – through completing ongoing professional development requirements

Assessments

The Council is committed to providing the highest quality certification examinations through ongoing development procedures and psychometric review based on proven industry standards.

Candidates are required to successfully pass two assessments that are designed to evaluate knowledge and competency in overseeing individuals who practice a progressive approach to ABA as a treatment method for Autism Spectrum Disorder. These are a written assessment and a practical assessment. The multiple-choice examination is administered via computer-based testing (CBT). The Content Presentation Evaluation consists of the candidate creating a video and submitting it for scoring.

The Multiple-Choice Examination

The multiple-choice examination is a four (4) hour computer-based examination consisting of 165 questions designed to measure a candidate’s knowledge of the principles of ABA. Sample items can be found in Section 9.

The Content Presentation Evaluation

The Content Presentation Evaluation requires a candidate to submit a 15- to 25-minute video for review and evaluation by trained and calibrated examiners. The skills that will be evaluated during the scoring process include comparing and contrasting conventional and progressive approaches, clinical judgment, clarity of presentation, and use of supporting materials.

Benefits of Certification

The CPBA-AP certification validates a master clinician’s specialized knowledge and expertise in overseeing the implementation of behavior intervention, thereby promoting quality supervision in the field of autism. Much like the founding pioneers in the field of autism, certified individuals are considered leaders, mentors, and role models. Obtaining and maintaining your CPBA-AP certification keeps you current on the latest developments in the progressive approach as it relates to autism and demonstrates your dedication to life-long learning. The CPBA-AP designation is a visible reminder of a clinician’s significant professional achievement.

Language

All components of the certification program are currently available in English only. No translators or translation devices will be allowed. The video submitted for the Content Presentation Evaluation must be in English.

Section 9 : Examination Content and References

Assessment Content

The development of valid assessments begins with an analysis of practice which identifies the knowledge, skills, and abilities (KSAs) needed for competent job performance. Experts in the field of progressive ABA used in the treatment of individuals diagnosed with ASD delineated these essential KSAs and developed a comprehensive assessment content outline (also known as the test blueprint) based on these KSAs. The delineation of KSAs and resulting assessment content outline is organized into ten major areas (“domains”) and describes the essential subject-matter which will be evaluated in the assessments. The process used to develop the examination blueprint and all assessments included input and perspectives from practitioners, trainers, and educators who represent a diverse range of practice settings and geographical locations.

The ten domains and the percentage of questions allocated to each area of the examination are shown below:

Multiple-Choice Exam Blueprint	Percentage of Assessment
Domain 1: Foundational Knowledge of Autism Spectrum Disorder And Intervention	8%
Domain 2: Principles, Concepts, And History of Behaviorism	8%
Domain 3: Respondent Conditioning – Theory and Application	7%
Domain 4: Contingency-Focused Responsiveness to Client And Treatment Progress	10%
Domain 5: Dynamic Application of Basic Behavioral Tools	12%
Domain 6: Progressive Teaching Procedures	14%
Domain 7: Curriculum Across the Life-Span	7%
Domain 8: Behavior Intervention Planning	10%
Domain 9: Treatment Design and Decision-Making	12%
Domain 10: Ethical Behavior, Clinical Sensitivity Skills, Training, Supervision,	12%

Candidates should be aware that CPBA-AP assessments are not based on any single text or singularly supported by one particular reference. Since the CPBA-AP is a competency-based credential that recognizes the integrated set of knowledge skills and abilities as gained from both practical and learned experiences, it should be noted that the references identified are one element within a broader set of educational resources and texts that might possibly be utilized for study and preparation.
